“we have to be very flexible and agile.” with a range that covers over 300 products and five billion tablets a year, it is easy see his point particularly elderly ones; whereas differences in pill shapes are more readily perceived or involve